Report Highlights:

On December 30, 2011, Mexico's Secretariat of Economy (SE) announced it will allow a total of 44,200 metric tons of dairy product preparations (dairy blends) to be imported from any country in the world under a mixed allocation (direct and public bid) scheme. This announcement should not affect U.S. dairy blends as they have unlimited duty-free access under NAFTA.

General Information:

Disclaimer: This summary is based on a  cursory review of the subject announcement and therefore should not, under any circumstances, be viewed as a definitive reading of the regulation in question, or of its implications for U.S. agricultural export trade interests. In the event of a discrepancy or discrepancies between this summary and the complete regulation or announcement as published in Spanish, the latter shall prevail.

This report summarizes the official announcement published in Mexico's Diario Oficial (Federal Register) on December 30, 2011.

SE announced in the Federal Register a TRQ for dairy blends under Mexico's General Import and Export Tax Law. This announcement recognizes that the production of domestic dairy blends is insufficient to meet the needs of Mexican milk powder processors. The exporters of any country may supply products under this TRQ. Importers will be eligible to import, duty free, these products provided that they have obtained a TRQ certificate issued by SE. This TRQ will be in effect from December 31, 2011, until December 31, 2012. U.S. dairy blends continue to have unlimited duty-free access under NAFTA.

Products under Harmonized Tariff System (HTS) code 1901.90.05 are dairy blends produced from cheeses, dry milk, butter, and other dairy based products containing more than 50 percent of milk solids by weight.

Solids may be either butterfat or solids not fat or both. The definition does not include items covered under other HTS codes, such as butter, dry milk powder or cheese, and specifically excludes items under HS code 1901.90.04, which contain more than 10 percent milk solids and are consumer packed; hence, 1901.90.05 excludes consumer-packed products.

H.T.S. Number and Product	MFN TRQ for 2012
1901.90.05 Dairy product preparations based on a content of over 50 percent solids in weight, except those under tariff classification 1901.90.04	44,200 MT

The mechanism through which the TRQ will be allocated is:

Beneficiaries	Allocation Mechanism	Quantity (MT)	Application period
A. Public sector company supplying milk to low-income consumers	Direct	10,000	From December 31, 2011 up to November 30, 2012
A. Private sector business that use dairy blends as an input and have previously received quota allocations.	Direct	21,200	15 business days from December 31, 2011
A. Private sector business that use dairy blends as an input and have not previously received quota allocations.	Direct	1,000	15 business days from December 31, 2011
A. All interested parties	Public bid	12,000	In compliance with the rules of the corresponding public bid procedures <sup>①</sup>

① SE will publish the announcement in the Federal Register, at least, within 20 business days before the application period (scheduled to occur during the 1-15 August, 2012 period).

Direct allocation will be authorized to the Public Sector Company and private companies —with or without previous experiences in the allocation process— who use dairy blends in their production processes. Public allocation will be authorized for interested parties that comply with the correspondent public bid rules. The applications for the request of allocation of the quota (import permits) must be submitted using form SE-03-011-1 at the General Directorate of Foreign Trade of SE.

Once the quantity to be imported is allocated under the TRQ, SE will issue the import permits to the authorized companies. The expiration date of the quota is December 31, 2012.

FAS/Mexico Analysis: The TRQ is equal to previous years' levels issued by Mexico. Thus, U.S. dairy blends will not face additional international competition in the Mexican market and will continue to be granted unlimited duty-free access to the Mexican market under NAFTA.

This is NOT an invitation for bids to purchase selected dairy products. Rather, it is an auction of the right to import the listed product duty free. Thus, the auction is limited to Mexican companies within the dairy industry who use dairy products in their production processes.
